

IV.) The Democratic National Convention Postponed to August 17th - 20th

Due to my mistake it makes no sense to write about the Democratic National Convention. I thought that this would become a very special and thrilling part, in Germany party conventions are very interesting, and sometimes they end with a big surprise! But when the result stands firm, before the convention begins.....makes no real sense to me, but this is America! This convention is only a show, to entertain the party and voters, to motivate them, to swear the voters to the party. It would be not much thrilling to write about this. I have only to think about conventions of the Green Party, always good for surprises. Or the convention of the conservatives, where three candidates tried to become party chairman - it ended not only for a few with a surprise! But because I have made this severe mistake and the convention would be anyway boring, I will not write this part.

V.) Running For Presidency August 21st till November 3rd

I'm The Nominee Now

I was the nominee now, not important why and which way, it was obvious that I will become the nominee right from the beginning, therefore no surprise, everything as expected.

I would become the next POTUS, also this would be no surprise, also this was obvious right from the beginning. Why? Maybe not important. Which way? This would become the crucial point.

It would be not important to become the next POTUS, it would be extremely important in which way. Many hypothetical stories could have been written, but the present reality would dictate the following. It was not on me to write the story, history would dictate the writing, would give the writer no chance to do it another way.

But we had to be honest, at a certain point the story would no longer reflect reality, the question: Will be there a 46. President of the United States or not. In the story yes, but in reality? If reality and story differ in this point, not only in the name of the 46. President of the United States, then.....then it will become very difficult to bear the reality.

I was the nominee now, only one goal, to win, to become the next POTUS, to get rid of the sitting president? Sure, this was a fundamental condition, the necessity for the upcoming, but not more. A "Keep it up!" would be not much better, than a second term of the sitting president, better, but not good. It would not lead into the catastrophe of a fascist dictatorship, but nevertheless it would lead into a catastrophe. Maybe not a category 6 hurricane, "only" a category 4 hurricane, but nevertheless a devastating storm.

But those times would be not in the range of this story, beyond the story, maybe another story. This story would be now about, whether there would be a storm, a tropical storm maybe, or a hurricane, maybe a catastrophic hurricane. This story would have a happy end, hopefully it will not become a corrupt story, not a story about a tropical storm, a hurricane even, only a story about some dark clouds, some thunder and lightning, some rain and wind, a summer storm, maybe heavy but short and thereafter the sun would shine again and would offer you a wonderful rainbow - what fucking Hollywood kitsch!

I was the nominee now, I was frightened about the coming weeks, and maybe even more about the weeks that would follow then. What this nation had become, what we'd become, that I had to be frightened of an election and the time thereafter? Make yourself honest, be honest, this was the result of a development spanning decades if not centuries, the result of endless failure, the failure of the White part of the nation. And well, had we to talk about the conservatives now, couldn't we talk about Bill? Wasn't his presidency not a catastrophe, as well as the words his wife chose to defend him - was there something to defend? Should such a man not be very humbly nowadays and stay silent?

*I'm getting desperate
Desperate for a revolution
Some kind of spark
Some kind of connection
In these dangerous days
Come a little bit closer
I need to understand
(Garbage; Even Though Our Love is Doomed)*

I was the nominee now, and they were on the way to kill the horses. Many of them had to die over the decades and centuries, and not much left today, but still a few were left, but they were on the way to kill also them!

I was the nominee now, I had to find clear and distinct words now. The fight for the White House had begun now, but the White House was not the Heart of the Nation, the Heart of the Nation was red, flooded by red blood. You could kill a person with white or black skin, you could not distinguish their blood, both of their blood would be red. You could kill every American, all their blood would be red, you could tear out their hearts, all their hearts would be red. But if the hearts would be equal, if the blood would be equal, why then the color of your skin should count? Only because of unreal, wrong, corrupt, dishonest, betraying, evil, diabolic.....reasons - or? We had to overcome this, we, the White Americans, also the Clintons or Kennedys, also their hands weren't clean!

I was the nominee now, sitting in boat, no oars, what would be behind the next bend of the river? A calm river, whitewater, or maybe a huge waterfall? I would come to know it, after the bend.....

*There'll be no apologies
And no more security
There will be no cops
Just men with guns*

*This is the apocalypse
That killed the horses*

*Shhhhhhh!
(Garbage; No Horses)*

The Republican National Convention

"Hi Peter, nice to welcome you again at CNN, this time as the democratic nominee, congratulations Peter!"

"Thanks Don, it's nice to be here again at CNN, and your show."

"Well, I thought to talk about the Republican National Convention as happened so far with you, but as far as I know you now, I think there's another topic, you wanna say something first?"

"Well, the convention you can forget, the usual lies and shit rhetoric. It's wasted time to listen to, we have other problems in this nation, matters you should be interested in. President Barack Obama once held a speech and asked with tears in his eyes, how often more he has to stand behind the lectern after a mass shooting, to speak words of condolence. I have also tears in my eyes, and anger in my heart - of course we have no clear knowledge so far what happened at all, but I have seen a black man walking - walking! - away from police officers, opening his car, where his three young boys sat. Now this man struggles for his life, with up to seven bullets in his back - are we finally crazy in this country, after all what has happened during the last weeks and months? I'm shocked, I'm simply shocked!"

"You said it, that we not know everything so far. But what we have seen is, that a police officer who stands right behind the man - Jacob Blake is his name - suddenly shot at least seven times. Is it too early to say more?"

"What's the worst you can say? He tried to grab a weapon, that was in the car - I would say. A gun? Seven shots in the back? A knife, maybe stepping back and trying to deescalate? What it's obvious is, that we have a problem with our police.

We have to educate and qualify our police, not only "train" them for a few weeks, mostly how to shoot. We have to think about, what's a task for the police and what not. Maybe we need more police officers, but more who would do social work, who live within the communities, from the so-called minorities. We have to think about, whether a police officer should be a kind of cowboy, or a kind of supporter for communities. We....."

".....wait a minute, more police? So, you're no fan of defund the police?"

"It's no matter of money, it's a matter of attitude! We have to change attitude within at least parts of the police, money is the wrong subject of discussion in this context."

"Do you expect riots?"

"I have said, that I have anger in my heart, and I'm an old White man? I do not know what I would do, would I be a young African American man, at lest I wanna not talk about it."

"So, you understand people who protest violently?"

"I know that there's a point, when things escalate, no matter about what we're talking. How many black men with bullets in their backs one can endure patiently, how many black women shot dead in their own houses? If we change nothing, if this happens again and again, then we cannot be upset because of "riots" - oh, some like it then, that they can send their troops!"

"We need systemic changes in our police?"

"Of course, as fast as possible! And maybe we need more money for our police as well."

"The Republican National Convention?"

"Let's talk about more important topics - every topic is more interesting than this chatter. What did you have for breakfast, coffee or tea?"

"I had coffee, black of course!"

"I had a fine Oolong tea, only partly fermented, between a green tea and a black tea. And by the way, I need milk in my coffee, black is too hard for a guy like me, I like café au lait most."

"Now that we know this, and I liked it, what do you think will be the most important topic, for the first hundred days of your presidency."

"How much time you have? We have so much urging problems in this country, we have wasted years, but to be honest, decades. We have to install task forces for several important problems, and have to try to deal with all of them at the same time. The pandemic of course, police violence of course, but do not forget climate change, the shattered relationships to our allies, our education system, health care.....do you have time?"

"Yes, but I understand what you mean - do you really wanna become POTUS?"

"Apart from, that I will become POTUS, would I be POTUS and this would be all, then we could forget it! I have Muriel Bowser who supports me now, she gives me hope, that we can start during my presidency with the necessary changes at least. But we will need good ministers and good ministries, we will need motivated civil servants. And we will need a motivated civil society, I would be proud to work together with all our NGOs, all the movements and people, which wanna bring our nation further on."

"All together or not?"

"At least all democrats, all who believe in a free society. I'm not interested in, to work together with racists and Nazis."

"Wow, and if they would be interested in a dialog?"

"A dialog about what? That Hitler was not that bad, that niggers are scum? I talk about Nazis, but I do not talk with Nazis."

"Should nobody talk with Nazis?"

"If you talk about social workers for instance, who try to help people to get out of these groups, then I have to say, that they do a very important work. But I will be the President of the United States, I have to make distinct statements, and I cannot see good people, when I see Nazis armed with assault weapons, and I have to express this."

"Do you see good people, when you see the - say riots - in Portland and other cities?"

"I see people who are deeply disappointed, still today a "black person" is not more than a better slave for many White Americans, do a phone call in Central Park. You have heard from the white man with seven bullets in his back?"

"No?"

"Neither I!"

"The pandemic?"

"I still have tears in my eyes and anger in my heart. We kill every day hundreds of Americans who had not to die, would we have a responsible leadership."

"Your lawsuit against the sitting president?"

"We have signals from The Hague that we have good chances, that the trial will begin in a not so far future, definitively before the election."

"I would like to wish you the best, to become POTUS. But even with you as POTUS, I see hard times in front of this nation."

"I also, and as said. I as POTUS will be capable to nothing, I need the support and the willingness of all democratic Americans to help me to form this nation in a better way. This is not a task for "one man", this is not Hollywood, I cannot rescue the world, not even a nation. We have to do it together, or we will fail miserably."

"I hope you will become POTUS, you have to become POTUS!"

"The second part of your sentence describes very good the sickness of our nation - thanks anyway, Don."

The President Not Likes You, Peter! - Chris Cuomo

"Well Peter, the RNC is over, you liked it and what they said about you?"

"Well Chris, I feel honored, they hate me, it's good to be hated by such people, it's good to be hated by racists, by antidemocratic people, by Nazis - I feel honored and very pleased."

"A lot happened during the last days, what's the most important for you?"

"The last days were dramatic, without any doubts the RNC was the less important, babble on lowest level. Trayford Pellerin and then Jacob Blake, the reaction of the NBA and other leagues, the speeches in Washington, still the pandemic and all the people who have to die every day because the failure and unwillingness of the White House and the GOP, two dead protesters and a White guy with a big gun greeted by the police - so many important things are happening at the moment. Oh, sorry, the hurricane!"

"But still the race is not over, still the president has chances to win - your feelings about this?"

"Sadness, but also the insight, that this is only because of our antiquated election procedure, a minority is able to outvote a majority, this is not democracy for me. But I have to live with it, and in a way I hope that I will lose popular vote, but have one electoral delegate more who votes for me. I would like to see the reaction from the GOP!"

"But I fear, that you will have no problem therewith to win the popular vote, with more millions as Hilary most probably, but the electoral college?"

"Always the same, we talk about Florida and a few swing states, the rest is uninteresting. Also this is not democracy for me, not talking about voter suppression and gerrymandering and such things."

"Do you think that this could be a moment of real change?"

"Washington today was very strong - "I'm tired!" and "Stand up!", the new "I have a dream". Very strong moments, it would be wonderful to see, that the so-called minorities and women would end this presidency, it would be a release for me, not because of becoming POTUS then, but it would symbolize, that this nation still would have a chance."

"Have you spoken with the family of Jacob Blake - in an interview the father mentioned this, but gave no details?"

"I have, but it's not the time for the Whites to talk, this is a time the black community has to speak, and we have to listen to them. It's time that all the so-called minorities have to speak out, the White America has to shut up now, we have to listen, we have to hear them and have to listen to their concerns, fears, and not lastly their demands. It's time for change, and change means to fulfill their demands, especially the demand, to be treated like human beings, not like better slaves - is it not a shame, that we have to discuss such topics in the States in 2020?"

"Very much, Peter. The NBA?"

"Maybe it's better to say: The players of the NBA, the black players of the NBA, and black means powerful at this moment. I have to confess that I saw them as players all the years. Yes, I had heard about social commitment, social projects, but hey, sorry, I'm one of this White men who can't jump. It's fascinating now to see them as citizens, as people with minds and thoughts and fears. The White guy sees the black multimillionaire when he executes a slam dunk, he's excited about the game, but he sees not the black man, who is on the street suddenly not more than one of this black men, one of this former slaves. The multimillionaire, every of this multimillionaires can tell you suddenly stories from his youth, or at college, stories what it means to be a black person. And then you look in a mirror, seeing your White face and asking: What a fucking asshole you are, what about the stories about Ella Fitzgerald, Billie Holiday, Nina Simone or Bessie Smith? About all this "black" musicians, how much JFK loved it to see Sammy Davis Jr. with his blond gorgeous white wife? Maybe we will have to thank them and all the other players one day very much, from Colin Kaepernick back to Tommie Smith, John Carlos and Muhammad Ali. In what a strange time we live, what a strange 2020? This president, the pandemic, extreme weathers, growing protests of people who are sick of it, sportspeople who show us what's important and not, who remind us, that refusal is a legitimate way to protest."

"As role models for all of us? Refusal?"

"There can be times, when nothing is more important than to be on the streets expressing your opinion. Also not to work, not to do what you normally do."

"What were the most emotional moments for you in the last days?"

"Wow, there were so many. The video from another black man with bullets in his back, especially in comparison to a video where a White young man, a supporter of our president, kills and wounds peaceful protesters, seeing him walking away, passing police cars and nothing happens. This could be a snippet from an apocalyptic movie, as well as the first video. Both videos appeared in different ways surreal, but both were fucking real! Hearing that a man, shot seven times in the back, paralyzed now, is handcuffed to his bed - this is a snippet from a very fucking movie! I mean, he would not run away, and even if, you know who he is, he will have no chance to abscond, or? Also this is so surreal, but fucking reality! I could continue, but I think this is not necessary. I have talked with people from Europe, they cannot believe what they see, this is America? Yes, maybe you watched the wrong movies? Peckinpah, Scorsese or Coppola? What they told you about America? Cameron, Spielberg or Tarantino? Yes, you watched the wrong movies. Maybe it would have been better to read some books and listen to some music."

"The president not likes you, Peter?"

"This is one of the moments I get hope. A Nazi swine and his rotten family and his decayed party not like me, this gives me hope. I talked with a homeless the other day, he asked me why I would talk with him, he will not vote, it would be so difficult for him as homeless, much to difficult. I told him, I do not talk with you because I hope that you vote for me, I talk with you, because I need this conversation with you, to ensure me, that I'm still a human being. Apart from, that every American has to have the right and the possibility to vote, if this man.....I'm tired! In what disturbing times we live? Fair is foul and foul is fair / Hover through the fog and filthy air - Macbeth? He not believed the witches, too surreal their talking, but in the end.....? These are very disturbing times, Chris!"

Seven Bullets!

"Yes, that's true, I have said very early in the George Floyd case that I see this as a murder, at least a second degree murder. And it's true that I haven't said anything like this in this case so far. But what one have to say, seven bullets in the back?

Every police officer has the right to defend her or his life, but was the life of this police officer threatened? Seven bullets? I cannot see anything that threatened the life of this police officer. And to say it clearly, even a knife in the car would not, he could easily step back to de-escalate the situation for the moment, and by the way, he was not alone.

Why he grabbed his shirt, why he shot seven times? If a wild animal, a predator, runs towards me, I fear for my life, then I empty my magazine till the last bullet, hoping that I've killed the beast. Who wonders, that African Americans feel like treated as animals, or even worse, like human scum and vermin? And what sucks most, is the behavior of the police union, and local authorities. Seven bullets in the back, if you find a dead body, seven bullets in the back, play some CSI, what would you think, self-defense or murder?

And at the same time we have a young white man who, without any doubts, shot dead two persons - and what's the reaction of the right-wingers? What a surprise, self-defense! Why always the White people act in self-defense, whatever they do? Why the "Blacks" always threaten the Whites? Why the Whites have always to kill others, especially "Blacks"?

And let me say something about the young man, Kyle Rittenhouse. I would like to have some answers, about with whom he was in the city, why he was so familiar with the police, and such questions. And then I have a picture in my mind - El Dorado! Do not give a kid a job, that requires a man - maybe one have to see also Kyle Rittenhouse as a victim, not as a hero, but as a victim? I would have some questions, who gave this kid this job, why this kid had such a gun, not allowed drinking alcohol! I just would have some questions.....

There's a lesson in all this, weapons and hate are a bad combination. And if you have a racist and a Nazi in office then, who dreams about to destroy this nation, then you have the ultimate problem. I see murderers and victims everywhere, and sometimes it's hard to decide. But if looking at the White House, the GOP, Fox et al., then it's easy! Murderer, is the only word still needed then!

A black man, a white police officer, a young white man - the black man was no innocent angel as far as we know till the moment, the police officer, the young white man? Why it seems impossible for too many Whites, to look into a black face, not seeing a kind of ape, but a human being? A human being that can be a loving father, maybe a sex offender - oh, didn't support our president this nice lady, once sitting on a throne? Yeah, moral values, the law, Lady Justice.....well, I feel very unwell, looking in the mirror these days....."

We Have To Fight For Our Democracy!

"More and more this administration, with the president on top, shows how they would like to have our nation - the RNC was the prelude for the upcoming, the attunement.

Well, I said till a longer time now, that this will become a dirty and unfair presidential race, we're not fighting with a man with any moral values, we're fighting with a man who has no problems therewith to sleep at night, while more than a thousand Americans die every day, many of them because of his incapability and unwillingness to do something against it. This man is on his way to become the next Mao, Stalin or Hitler, but not China, Russia or Germany will be his playground this time, this time it will be the USA.

But while Mao, Stalin and Hitler are history today, our Mao, Stalin or Hitler is not finally developed today. Still we would have the time to kill the process, still we would have the time to rescue our democracy, still we would have the possibility to stay as the land of the free. But this would need a vehement stand against this erosion, some nice words and the belief, that all will be good at the end, will be by far not enough.

More and more the masks are falling, more and more we see what they try to do, to plunge this nation into chaos and despair. This the tactic of terrorists, and not the more they are, deaths is their day's work. Dead African Americans, dead Latinos, dead poor people, now the first dead people on the streets - and one is happy about it, like a child about Disney World. He and his bunch will be happy about every dead person, not important whether a protester or a supporter, every death they can use for their aims, they will have no scruples!

He talks about law and order, but whose law and order? There was a lot of law and order in fascist Nazi Germany under Adolf Hitler, for instance the racial laws, the Nuremberg laws. Or that if you not agreed with the fascist, you got the red triangle in the concentration camps. If you were a Jew you were scum, vermin and lowlife, the gas chambers were law and order! Law and order, do we wanna such law and order in the USA, when his buddies can do what they wanna do, not to have to fear to held responsible, but a black man with an invisible knife gets seven bullets in his back? Is this the law and order you wanna? Is this what makes the suburban areas safe - and by the way, really, are all suburban women desperate housewives?

And let me illustrate, how I see the relation between the government and the American people, not in dividing them, not in stirring up hatred, but care for them. The other day I saw a report about the Gary Sinise Foundation. I think it's good what Gary Sinise makes, but then I got the feeling that something is wrong. The foundation cares for wounded veterans, no bad idea - or? Veterans who served, who fought for their nation, for all of us, who got wounded - but hey, they fought for all of us? Shouldn't we all now help them, care for them, should not the government care for the veterans who fought for the USA, should not the USA care for those who fought for the USA, why a private person has to do this? The USA sent them, the USA gave them their orders, but later the USA not cares for the former soldiers, the veterans? This is not how I see a nation, a free and democratic nation, we, the nation, have to care for the veterans, we have the obligation to do so!

This is one example how I see a nation, not as a self-service store for a small White rich and ruthless class. A nation belongs to everyone, because a nation is formed by everyone, everyone can expect care and support from her or his nation. This is how I see a nation, but this nation is at great risk now! Portland and Kenosha, now it begins, now the president tries finally to create an atmosphere of hate and fear - deaths is his tool. A seventeen-year-old man is his tool, too young to drink, too young to drive alone, but it's okay when he patrols with a long gun through the streets of Kenosha, not even his hometown? How likely is it, that this will go wrong, that this young man is overchallenged? But hey, this is it! This president needs heroes, victims and aggressors, the best aggressors, victims and especially the best heroes are the dead ones, Kenosha and Portland, a president who achieved his goals!

If someone still thinks, that this president has limits, that he would not sell his own grandma, that there would be a point where he would hesitate, maybe would be even not ruthless enough to move on, you have to be very, very naive! A thousand plus dead Americans every day now, Germany had no ten the same time, a quarter of our population and much denser populated! No forty deaths a day in the USA, nine hundred and sixty plus deaths EACH DAY avoidable, do you really think that this president has problems to sleep? He's a ruthless and disgusting swine, just a typical fascist."

Meeting The Press

"After my introductory words, feel free to ask me questions, and I ensure you, that I will do my best to answer your question, not to blatter, especially I try not to lie - the first question?"

"A new prediction says, that we could reach over four hundred thousand corona deaths in January. The president's response is, to praise himself and to say, without him it could be millions - your comment?"

"He's a disgusting and stone-cold killer. We could have millions of deaths if no measures at all had been taken – but this is a stupid thought! I like it always to talk about Germany. A quarter of our population and much denser populated. They had eight deaths yesterday, four times eight results in thirty-two. We had one thousand and sixty-six deaths, this leads to one thousand and thirty-four deaths which could have been prevented, the mass murderer in office has killed another thousand and thirty-four Americans."

"Is this not too easy, to say this in such a way?"

"That's true, we're by far less dens populated than Germany, it should be more easy for us, to fight the virus."

"What would you have done differently, especially at the beginning of the pandemic?"

"I would have talked and listened to the scientists and would have talked with our European allies - oh, sorry, we have no longer European allies, our allies today are nations like Russia, Turkey and Saudi Arabia."

"Would you have recommended a harder shutdown?"

"I would have appointed a task force that would have worked together with the governors, not against them - and by the way, governors from the left or right? I always thought, that in a crisis we're all Americans, but I think this is no longer valid. The first step would have been to develop a national plan, all together, not everyone for itself. Then we're a huge nation, not every region is alike, nevertheless some rules should be generally binding - social distancing and wearing masks for instance. The shutdown? Not everywhere the same measures all the time, but unambitious rules for shutting down and for reopening. This would have meant, that some regions or states would have been hit harder than others, it would have been our obligation to help those most who hit hardest, the government's obligation!"

"It's reported that the president called captured and killed soldiers "losers" and "suckers" - what do you know about this?"

"I know that this man is a swine without any moral values, a swine that was too gutless to serve - it was not the first time he talked in this way, or? Americans risk their lives for our country and our president mocks those, who gave their lives for our country, those, who suffered imprisonment. Should I meet him onstage once, I have to have to show him my disrespect, that swine without any moral values."

"But even in crises, this president has managed it, that we have nearly record heights at the stock markets again. Well, I'm convinced that you would have made this better!"

"The stock markets? I'm interested in the small business owners, in the workers, what does the stock markets tell you about them? These markets have no relation to reality anymore, forget them, should you be interested in the state of our economy. Thousands have to leave their houses every day today, I'm interested in them, them I would help. Yes, also airlines for example, or the car industry, they are important and the government have to support them, but we have no six hundred dollar for those who would need it the most? This is disrespectful and a shame!"

"Another black man is dead, you were always very fast with comments - your comment this time?"

"I saw a black man sitting on the street, naked, handcuffed, a spit hood over the head. Thus far I could accept this, as far the video allows you to judge, but then? Why always this aggressivity, why always at the end we have to see a dead black man? I not get it, it would have been easy to arrest this man, why this aggressivity, why again a black man had to die? This has to have consequences."

"A homicide?"

"Failure to render assistance or negligent homicide at least, but I would like it, to have more information. But what counts at the moment for me is, that another black man had to die and I see no reason why he had to die."

"The shooter from Portland is dead?"

"This matter becomes more and more complicated. I had no time so far to get enough information. I saw this interview only once, but it was striking, I will say something thereto tomorrow or the day thereafter. It appears like a movie plot to me, not sure what kind of movie at the moment."

"The president's response to the German statement that Alexej Nawalny had been poisoned and that all leads to Russia?"

"Well, should I choose whom I trust more, the German or the US government, then I would see Angela Merkel as the better choice. This is bitter to say as an American, but Angela Merkel is not known as constant liar. This president is a Russian puppet. Okay, I think enough for today, we will continue this, thanks for your questions."

You Served!

"You served!"

"Yes, but we had this topic during the debates and regarding Pete Buttigieg. I was a pen-pusher, what nevertheless could become dangerous under these circumstances. But to drive a car on patrol is a very different thing, every day could be your last day. I know names from people, who got killed in action, a soldier like Pete Buttigieg has comrades who got killed in action, that's a difference."

"But the words from the president, if true, what are your feelings?"

"Who doubts about, that they are true? The way he talks about late John McCain, about gold star families, his bone spurs, all this shows you the character of this man, that he has no character."

"Your feelings?"

"I think that every soldier and every member of the armed forces, as well as their families, should decide for themselves. They have to decide, whether they wanna elect such a man who talks such disrespectful - to use demure language - about our army, especially also about those who gave their lives for us and prisoners of war. But hey, some can vote for racists, some can vote even for fascists, why not voting for someone, who gives a shit on the lives of our soldiers, who makes fun of them, who have found their final rest at war cemeteries."

"Do you think that this can cost the president the reelection?"

"No, not with this depraved GOP, with senators without any moral. Look at the Evangelists, at the RNC? They elected and support a morally debauched man, because he gives them judges and abortion laws, how repelling is this? They really believe, that the kingdom of heaven will be theirs, or is it more about very earthly reasons? Everybody has to decide for oneself, whether she or he can look in the mirror, after given this man her or his vote. These are my feelings."

Ms. Fatou Bom Bensouda

"Yes, it's right that Mike Pompeo, as puppet of the president, has put Ms. Fatou Bom Bensouda on a sanctions list and named her a "specially designated national" . Ms. Fatou Bom Bensouda is the International Criminal Court's chief prosecutor since June 2012, should we think that such a woman is impressed by this rooster's behavior? This will have no effect to our lawsuit, as said, such a woman laughs about such toddlers, it's simply childish behavior. By the way, no one from Europe is at the moment interested in to travel to the States, we're a high risk area. I would visit Ms. Fatou Bom Bensouda with pleasure, to have a coffee with her, but unfortunately we're not welcomed in Europe anymore, we're a high risk area! So much to this."

Talking About Strategy

"You know, what sucks me the most?"

"That the president still has a chance to win?"

"Not only this, but that the press and the Dems learn nothing! Why always falling at the president's tricks, why always work off the president's lies, why not ignoring them, why not showing an alternative world, the real world."

"We do this, or?"

"Yes, but without the media, without a united Democratic Party, we come to nothing! Talking about the president's lies means to talk about the president. We have to talk about ourselves! Where are the top Dems who travel to California, Oregon and Washington? We have to show up, we have to dominate the discourse, we have to talk with the Palestinians - they have clearly said, that they are not trust the president and his son-in-law, but where is the alternative for them?"

"The Dems are taking it too lightly?"

"Well, on the paper everything seems to be cool. Not only nationwide, even in the important swing states we're in the lead, the margins are looking not that bad, in any case better as Clinton. But the GOP and the president will do everything, to make it for as many as possible as difficult as possible to vote. The assault on the US postal service? Russia? This vote is not won, till we will have a final result, accepted by everyone - and it's a disgrace that we have to say this, and there are enough reasons to think, that this can become a very long and difficult process. I would take everything bloody seriously now, but as long as Hillary and others think, that they are the best deal makers? We failed in 2016, why changing our strategy? It's all so stupid!"

"What should we do?"

"We have to do it by our own, we have to work closer together with NGOs, with the base of AOC and others, we have to use all possibilities, what we can forget is the democratic establishment and the mainstream media, they are still much too shy. We have to intensify our use of Facebook, YouTube and the Internet as such, we have to be better as the liar in office."

"Will be not easy."

"No Caroline, not really."

Chris - how we should confront this president?

"A lot has happened since we met for the last time, Peter. Especially the last days were nearly overloaded with events and extreme developments. Let's try to get some structure in it?"

"Well Chris, every week you have this feeling now, that this week is even worse than the previous week, I fear that you can say exactly the same next week - we have a president who will not disappoint us, Chris."

"I fear the same, but let's start with our environment and science. Bush fires to a never known extent in California, Oregon, even in Washington we have fires. The president still denies climate change, for the first time in its history "Scientific America" endorses a president, new support for you?"

"It's like with the military, too long they not spoken it out clearly, this president is a danger to all of us. Even if you would accept his remaining agenda, the fact that he denies climate change that will affect future generations in all facets of heir life makes him unelectable, he would destroy the basis of life of future generations - if it is not too late anyway."

"Then we can elect him?"

"How many hundred thousand Americans you wanna see dying the next months, Chris? His inability to understand and accept science, his inability to accept that there are people - scientists - who understand matters he cannot understand not only touches climate change, the pandemic as well and so much more. He is a very insecure person, but that makes him even more dangerous."

"Okay, he has problems with science and scientists, and maybe they should have spoken out earlier, but the president also has successes - the peace agreement?"

"A peace agreement between nations not in war? A agreement between unimportant nations based on economic promises? Bahrain and the UAE, really the big players in the region - was there something with the Palestinians? What a pity, all this wasted time and paper, but typical for the president and his sorcerer's apprentice."

"So, for you no historic day?"

"A joke maybe - wake up CNN!"

"Let's talk about the president's attacks on you....."

".....this is meaningless shit, Chris."

"In a way I agree with you, but the people are hearing this "shit". Now he called you a pedophile, that's pure QANON of course. Shouldn't we comment this?"

"If you have time for this, feel free to do so. I have to tell the people about me, who believes in this shit, should not give me her or his vote."

"Isn't this dangerous, to talk in this way?"

"I had never the "mission" to proselyte his "base" to the truth. I fight for one electoral vote more than my opponent, to win the election, that's all."

"That's harsh talking!"

"That's the bad reality of the American electoral system! In any normal democracy I would try to get the majority of the votes, not in the USA! This is very sad, but this is the American reality. As well as to make it hard for many to vote, not to make it as easy as possible, as in normal democracies - sad America. Have we to talk about the sabotage of the US postal service now, about gerrymandering? You not tell me now, that elections in the United States are free, equal and fair? This is a very sad story!"

"And still the president has a chance to win?"

"He will lose, I look forward to the first debate, Chris!"

"You said that you think that he's a coward and that he will not agree with debates - you was wrong, he is no coward?"

"Let's see if he will appear, still two weeks till then."

"He said that he will destroy you, will show that you're a lousy businessman, that you're nothing?"

"I thought that it's about the presidency, not about stock markets, about the American people, not shareholders. You know Chris, I'm not Hillary, he knows what I'm thinking of him, that he's a disgusting swine, we can discuss this onstage, if he likes it. I only hope that we will have some challenging anchors, should not become a lame show."

"With you and the president on the same stage?"

"Well, you know his reaction when someone is critical on him, he turns round and leaves the room, he cannot face pressure. He would be a very lousy police officer, firefighter, not to talk about to be a soldier - good that he had bone spurs!"

"You said, that you will show him your disrespect, should you on the same stage with him. What do we can expect?"

"Come on Chris, you not start a joke with the punch line, or?"

"No, normally not."

"So be patient, only two weeks and we all know that much will happen in this two weeks. I only fear that not much of that what will happen, will delight us Chris."

"This concern I share with you. You will be aggressive in two weeks, even more than you're already?"

"Everybody who opposes the president at least from now on not aggressively, risks the final downfall of the USA! Now it counts finally, look in the mirror, ask yourself: What will I tell my children, why I had let it happen, why I did not everything to prevent it, why I failed - it's the time now to resist, in any possible way, it's time to write history, to prove that history can be rewritten, that history not repeats itself time and time again, that we can learn from history, future history gets created in present, we're the present, we create the future history, today, now, right in this second! We only have to be aware of this, we're the creators and nothing is able to stop us, only we self can stop us - look in the mirror and ask yourself this only question: Will I be a creator, or a passenger on a ship without a helmsman, the choice is on you!"

"Thanks Peter, for your words."

"Thanks for talking with me, Chris."

Back Again!

"Not thought to see you so fast again, Peter. But this development needs to be discussed and I'm happy that I have the opportunity to discuss it with you. Your thoughts?"

"Well, I had hoped that she would have this last certainty, that this president would no longer smear the White House and our reputation in the free world. Unfortunately it will not be. But this should give us only all the more strength, to get it right."

"What's your position, after what has happened in 2016? First the presidential election, then the nomination? Is this a question about moral?"

"Among people with moral values, yes. But talking about this president, people like McConnell, large parts of the GOP, religious fundamentalists, racists, Nazis, well, talking about such persons without any moral values? It would be a joke, would you start to talk about moral values now."

"Lindsey Graham?"

"Well, we have not to talk about him, or? He's such a disgusting bootlicker, he would have had a fantastic career in Nazi Deutschland! These are the men who make dictators like Adolf Hitler possible."

"But what's your strategy now? Can the Dems stop it?"

"This nation has only one chance, millions would have to speak out loud on the streets. But hey, you know the polls, we're very near to a banana republic, to say it nicely."

"Not nicely?"

"Shithole country."

"Can we stop it?"

"Say I will win, say with Florida and some swing states. And then? Say, I could nominate the vacant judge for the Supreme Court after the election, for whatever reason, everything okay then? Not for the first time: NO! Let's have nine conservative judges, in a normal democracy this would not mean that this nation would degenerate into a fundamentalist dictatorship - why it could easily happen with this nation and five conservative judges? Why we have even to talk about judges, like we talk about politicians - from which side of the aisle you are? These are judges, or? But hey, we all know how our court system functions! This nation has so many severe problems, we would need the broad majority of the American people, to overcome this severe problems. But instead we're a deeply divided nation, no longer able to agree even in banal things, not even able to, not to see the most banal things in a political light. I would have only one hope, but it appears to me like the plot of a fantasy novel."

"It would be?"

"That after my election we would be able, in a long and painful process, to come together, to learn to respect each other, to share, to care - but it sounds silly or? And then there's this one reason, why it's most probably not more than a funny fairy tale?"

"Which?"

"We, the Whites, especially the White upper class, also the Clintons and Kennedys, we would to have to go the longest way - and this sounds really like a fairy tale. And this is the reason, why this nation is in such a position and crisis. 2020, I'm fifty-five now, what a year, and the climax will follow soon."

"Hopes?"

"There was this old lady, and this old black man, and so many more. It would be nice to see, that they get not disappointed. But it's on us to do so, and this seems to be the problem, Chris."

The Great Depression

"You know Caroline, wouldn't I know the writer of this story and therefore, that I will become POTUS and that this is only fucking fiction, I would fall into depression."

"The reactions of the American people?"

"Yes, could you imagine that this all would happen in Germany?"

"It happened in Germany!"

"Yes, but this was a different time. The time after WWI, the stupidities of the Treaty of Versailles, a time characterized by a deep obedience to authority - I thought we would live in different times today."

"Well, different maybe, but not different enough. Maybe it's not so easy as a White man to feel it, but as a black man maybe. No longer a slave, but still often treated like one. As a woman, you have the right to vote now - more or less - but your body still not belongs to you. And as a "Native American", they allow you to own some land and some casinos, but the continent is no longer yours and never will be. It's all about White supremacy, that's all!"

"It's about the stupidity, that only a White rich upper class could rule this nation, can ensure wealth for "all", what means foremost to ensure their privileges. But why so many fall for their tricks? It's like, that only the king can rule the country. But hey, they beheaded the king, and it functioned very well without him! I think about Ilhan Abdullahi Omar, that she should go back to her country - and these are the words of a US president! The USA, the land of the immigrants, but not every immigrant is a good immigrant! But why we ask not the important questions? First, why the inhabitants of the "classic" countries are no longer interested in, to immigrate to the US, especially the West European countries?"

"There's a simple answer - because these countries offer their inhabitants so much more than the US can offer! Universal health care, better education, more social security, much less racism, no gun violence, a better standard of life for more people, real democracies with popular vote and multi party systems, without voter suppression and gerrymandering, and much more. Not much is left to motivate you as a western European to immigrate to the US!"

"Right, and then the other question. Because less and lesser people from West Europe, but also from East Europe, immigrate to the US, the part of immigrants from other parts of the world gets higher and higher - automatically! From South America and Africa for instance, but now the question: Is this bad? Of course, this development changed the US society and will change the US society, but is this bad?"

"If you think that this country has to be ruled by a rich White upper class, then this development is alarming. This development automatically changes the status of a White rich upper class, especially when more and more "others" have success, getting rich and gain influence, especially when they even demand for political influence then - Ilhan Abdullahi Omar, we've come full circle!"

"Yes, but what disappoints me is, that we, the fucking Whites, the fucking White Americans, are not able to imagine, that a woman from Somalia is not on a mission to destroy the White America! I have not heard that she will forbid BBQ's and NASCAR - maybe she even likes BBQ's and NASCAR. The point is, that this nation would be large enough for everyone, but we even fail today, to find a common perspective in even the most basic points of living together - we only can hate each other today."

"And hate is no basis for any discussion, hate destroys any basis for any discussion, that's why the president, Kushner, Barr, McConnell and all the others act like they act, they destroy any possibility to talk with each other, hate is what they sow."

"But what disappoints me, what depresses me, is, that we're no longer able to find any common ground, not to see how stupid so many things are - the presidential rallies? All the people behind him at the lectern are wearing masks, so in TV it seems that everyone would wear a mask. But in the end no one wears a mask - as one of his supporters I would see this as silly, maybe even as betray! But it's okay for them - I not get it!"

"Do not try to be rational, the time of rational arguments is over. Hate and fear are dominating the discourse and with every moment, every second, the wounds becoming deeper, the wounds the American nation has to suffer. Even with you as POTUS, and maybe even with your funny punch line at the end, the American nation will be hurt marrow-deep, and it will be very difficult, if not impossible, to cure this wounds. But this is the strategy of those Whites, to destroy as much common ground as possible, till only hate and mistrust is left."

"And they are acting very successful, and the American nation seems unable to see it, that's so disappointing. I will become POTUS, and the punch line is so nice, but in the end everything seems so meaningless. Let's enjoy the view and the waves' sound, not knowing, what else I should say....."

Looking Forward - The First Debate!

"The first debate right in front of the door, Peter. What's your comment on the Washington Post article?"

"Well Don, I've said it since a long time now, and I hope that I not sound arrogant now, but I said it since 2016, this man is a pretender, this man is a fucking businessman, and of course, he's broke! I say this since a very long time now, that would we see his tax returns, we would see a bankrupt failed crook - and of course his entanglements with foreign mobsters like Erdoğan or Putin."

"Paying no taxes, in 2016 he said: That makes me smart! In what a way you would counter such a phrase?"

"I also say since a long time now, that he's a disgusting swine, a Nazi, of course a racist, a killer who killed tens of thousands of Americans, surrounded by a bunch of stone-cold vigilantes like Jared, Ivanka, Barr or McConnell. Oh, I've forgotten, he's a liar, why I should fall for his lies?"

"It will become a debate?"

"Well, he says that he will destroy me, that he will erase me - well, as a Nazi he knows how to erase people. But unfortunately I'm not interested in, to play his games. I never reacted to his lies and provocations, why I should do now? He's a wreck, look at him, he's physically and mentally a wreck. You not believe me, I say since 2016 that he's broke and a Nazi, that his dream is, to become the Fuehrer of the United States. One day we will see also this truth, he's finished up, his dream is to get a new term, to establish a dictatorship, to prepare the ground for Jared and Ivanka - you not believe me? Well, we only talk about the future of the United States."

"Some criticize your strategy, not to react directly to the president, they think this is dangerous."

"Yes, the Clinton Dems, because they were so successful with their strategy in 2016. I think that I have good chances to win, and not only the popular vote. But it will be a narrow win, as far as it seems, no landslide win. And this will be the problem, but I still hope to win Florida and enough swing states, so that it will be no real question, who has won the election."

"You think that this president will accept any result, apart from winning?"

"No, he in no case. But I hope that my lead will be strong enough to force enough Republicans to break with this president, because they see, that they will have no real chance, to keep him in office any longer, without risking a new Civil War."

"That sounds not good?"

"This country is at a point, where it's no longer a question, if an outcome would be "good" or "bad". The question today is: Bad, worse, worst, or the ultimate disaster. I hope that "bad" will be the answer."

"Also for this negative comments you get a lot of critique, Peter?"

"Yes, all is wonderful - or? We're that close to become a fucking Nazi dictatorship, what a shit I should talk about? In the Oval Office a president sits together with Jared and Ivanka, dreaming their wet dreams together? And we still have a fucking virus, and we still have a fucking problem with systemic racism, and we still have climate change, and we still have a greedy White rich upper class not willing to share, but hey, this is happy United States, the land of the free - we're looking very deep into the abyss today, and we stumble, ready to fall."

"A burning house needs brave firefighters, not the nice neighbor with a water hose - is this your message?"

"Yes, the house is fiercely ablaze, maybe the neighbor acts with good intent, but therefor it's too late now, now we need the professionals and their tools, we need consequent and strict acting. And as it is, with a house burning, the only thing you can do for the moment is, to try to get the fire under control, to save as many lives as possible, to put out the blaze then, not that the fire damages too much other structures, this are your goals for the moment. After, but only after you have done this, you can think about, to rebuild the house, maybe more beautiful than before. And maybe you even get a very special chance, like the New Yorkers after 9/11. The Twin Towers are no longer, no one was able to put out the fires, it ended in a disaster, a tragedy. But today this place is a place of hope and contemplation, maybe this can give us at least some hope, whatever will happen in the next weeks and months."

"So Peter, your strategy for the first debate?"

"Forget the disgusting swine and his lies, let us be honest, our future looks not that bright at the moment."

After The Debate!

"Wow, what you make out of this, Dana?"

"Sorry, but that was a shit show, I have no other words, Jake! Sorry for saying this on TV."

"No regrets, I can totally understand you Dana, this was the worst debate I have ever seen! About what we should talk now?"

"That the president failed! In the first thirty seconds, he was on his way to create a lot of problems for Maurer, then with every word more he screwed it up more and more, and after his first two minutes the debate was more or less over. But Jake, and then it started to become even worse as he started a heated dispute with Chris Wallace, and in the meantime the contender stood, listened, smiled and knew, after four minutes and twenty seconds, not saying one word so far, that this debate would be his. It was unbelievable!"

"Yes, Chris Wallace started as expected with the point, everybody was curious about, in which way Peter Maurer could handle it, not to become a laughingstock. As he asked the president about, that he is on the stage, whereas his opponent had predicted that he would be a coward and would not appear - this gave the president every chance to set Maurer immediately under pressure. And as you said, in the first thirty seconds you could see that Maurer was very tensed, but then he started to relax. After two minutes he was relaxed, ready to make, I guess a prepared, repost. And then the president started a fight with Chris Wallace, because he was not willing to stop his attack, not willing to give Maurer a chance to say something. For over another two minutes Wallace was not capable to get things under control - unbelievable!"

"To be honest, at this moment I thought that the debate would be over. I have never seen a president who spoiled such a chance in such a way, to put his opponent under pressure. Already this four minutes and twenty seconds showed everybody, that this man is a bad deal maker and totally unfit for office."

"And Maurer had only to smile and as Wallace asked him, what he says thereto that the president is no coward and had appeared on the stage he said, and I quote: The POTUS, the President of the United States is on the stage? I only see you, me and a hysteric clown here. Sorry, where is the POTUS?....."

"That was badass, and made from the first moment on crystal clear, that he is not willing to take the president serious, he....."

".....but sorry Dana, the president did in the next one and a half hours everything, that you could not take him serious - he behaved like a grumpy child, you cannot take this serious!"

"No, and Maurer made this all the time clear with his trenchant and sometimes very aggressive comments."

"And the president all the times jumped on the train! Maurer said two or three words, sometimes he was able to say at least one complete sentence, and the president started to boil over again! He fell totally for Maurers strategy, he made the president look like a fool ad libitum!"

"I have to ask you Dana, women will be important for this election, do you don't think that at least some of Maurer's attacks can cost him votes of women? He named, again and now on stage!, the president a "disgusting swine"?"

"Well, Chris Wallace asked him whether he thinks that it's appropriate to name a sitting president a "disgusting swine" - and his answer? He said, and again a quote: Well, about what president you're talking? I feel the obligation, especially with German ancestors and the history of Germany, that when I see a racist, a murderer, a fascist, so when I see a disgusting swine, then I have to point at this disgusting swine and name this disgusting swine a disgusting swine, everything else would make me to a disgusting swine, think about Germany in the 20s and 30s. Well, apart from that, that he tried hard to use the term "disgusting swine" as often as possible, the message towards the GOP and senators from the Republicans was not to overhear. And as a woman? Well, the next five minutes and forty-nine seconds Chris Wallace was not capable to get the debate under control again, to get the president under control, and Maurer stood behind his lectern and smiled amused, nearly I would say devilishly. The president was a mess, Maurer dominated the debate after the first thirty seconds at pleasure."

"But does this cockfight not repelled the female voters, Dana?"

"At this point I would have said: Yes! But then the last question from Wallace, the president's devastating words, and Maurer's remark, again a quote: A racist, a man hating women, a fascist, a person who's not touched and sad because of two hundred thousand dead Americans, a man who threatens the American nation with his Nazi goon squads, like Hitler the Germans with his SS and SA, briefly spoken, a disgusting swine, should not become the President of the United States of America, this would be a catastrophe! At this moment I thought: F.....ck, he is already the POTUS, but I have to do everything now that I can do, that this di..... sw..... not gets a second term! At the beginning the president appeared like a laughingstock, at the end I looked at him and - to be honest - could see Adolf Hitler standing behind him, with his SS and SA troupes. At this moment this man frightened me, the man who is the POTUS!"

"Yes, I would say that this debate has costed the president many votes from independents - and Maurer is already in the lead, Dana?"

"Yes, would be election day today, Maurer would win without any doubts. He not even would need Florida, and even Texas is a swing state today? Maurer has the momentum, without any doubts."

"And the president, what can we expect from him now - will there be more debates?"

"I would not focus that much on the president, I think the behavior of the GOP and the senators from the Republicans is much more important now. The president is capable to do anything, but to what is the GOP and their senators capable? We have to follow this very closely now, Jake."

"Yes, there's hope for the country, but this country is also in great danger. I'm very interested now, what impact this debate will have in the next days, Dana?"

"Me too!"

Welcome, Mr. President!

"The president is infected! He has COVID-19!"

"Are you're kidding me?"

"No, and I would not make such jokes, especially not when you have shared a stage with him only two days ago!"

"Wow, the first we have to do no is, to test us and all the others. Maybe it's not politically correct, but I care not for him and his fucking bunch, but about us and our people. Should they have known anything - are there any details?"

"No, it seems as Hope Hicks tested positive first. But no real details are available so far."

"Have you seen his fucking people during the debate, not wearing a mask? I hope they all get the shit!"

"Cool down somewhat, I can understand you, it's simply a bad feeling. But you should keep a cool head now, it would be important for all of us."

"You're right, but I hope that this disgusting Nazi swine will have the worst two weeks in his life now, I would like to see him in hospital, I would like it to see....."

".....stop it! Would you wish him death, or what!"

"In no case, I wish him a very, very fucking time the next days and weeks. And after I have defeated him, I wanna see him in court and later behind bars - as in the badass Wild West movies: I wanna get him alive, death would be too nice for him!"

"Cool down, and then we should start to react."

"You're right.....women would be the better politicians, it's time that a woman leads this country, that would do us all good."

Hospitalized!

"Well, well, well! The Nazi swine in hospital, of course he walked upright, like a real human, like the real American hero, not like an ape! But, he is the ruthless swine he is, therefore he cannot act differently than still to endanger others and being the showman for his "fans". Maybe he will be on ICU, maybe even on a ventilator, in any case I wish him late complications for the rest of his fucking life."

"Come down Peter, even Angela Merkel wished him a fast recovery!"

"Yes, but one thing I know about her is, at home, behind closed doors, when nobody sees her, she is a very "nasty girl" - I see her grinning!"

"She's a woman, she not needs this macho fuss!"

Tweet

"This president is the biggest enemy of the American people, every way to get rid of him, is okay now. This tweet is the most lowest low-point you can think of. This whole GOP fails, mass murderers rule this country! This president, his bunch, this whole administration, the leaders of the GOP, all of them have to face court and to be held responsible for their butchering of the American people!"

No, Dana!

"No, Dana! No, we have not to talk about a certain tweet or statement, not even about a certain action from the president anymore! He - is - a - filthy - relentless - Nazi - swine! And if somebody even not now realizes this now, then I cannot help this person anymore! It's very simple, we decide about the American future in a month, not more, not less. If you love the pigpen, the White House has become with the president and his bunch inside, vote for him. Otherwise, you should vote for me. Now he even kills his staff in the White House directly - this man not even needs to have a gun to kill you with a smile on his face. And then we have to talk about his medication, I think this would be important, Dana!"

"His mental state?"

"He has corona, corona can have severe long-time effects. He gets strong drugs, such drugs can have severe side effects. Hey, we elect a president and have no idea about his health situation? This is a joke, or? Again the next farce, like with his tax returns? What kind of republic we are?"

"At the moment it not seems as he could win the election. Your numbers are on record high?"

"These are predictions, not more. We know that they do their best to sabotage mail-in voting, the president encourages his Nazi friends for voter intimidation, gerrymandering..... - nothing is safe, till we have a final result, and maybe then our troubles will only begin."

"Michelle Obama's words today?"

"It's always nice to hear her, but "enough is enough"? He got elected anyway. We have to hope, that enough independents will no longer support this president. The whole world looks at us and wonders, they cannot understand what happens in the States, their former ally. The words from Donald today, Donald Tusk, the President of the European Council? Sorry, Mr. President, but this is how the US acts today! We butcher our own people, a ruthless butcher in the White House we have today, let's hope that in a month all is over!"

Into The Chaos - State of the Union

"This is an address to the American folk, now the masks have finally fallen. The president is not even interested in the health of the people closest to him, no surprise that he now tells you: Hey, the stock markets do well, let's blackmail the American folk and stop supporting them, especially them who would need support most, the Supreme Court is more important - strange, the stock markets are not that much happy about his action. But very happy is Moscow Mitch, he's the perfect henchman for the devil, he would follow him to every place - get rid of this ruthless and disgusting old White men, they represent not America!

They represent a part of America, a part we have to overcome, to overcome or to downfall finally. The final chaos begins, the next four weeks will become dirty and bad. The next four weeks? Where is the outcry of the GOP, of senators of the Republican Party? This GOP is decayed till the marrow, we need a landslide win in four weeks, even then they will not accept it! You have heard Moscow Mitch saying that the transition will be peaceful? This man sucks the devil's dick, this man has no scruples anymore.

Four weeks and then? The State of the Union? Fear and hope are fighting in my head, we have to be strong now, we have to be resolute now, no thirty days anymore and - yes, what then? We not even can say: Then we will have won the election, then everything will get a new chance. Into the final chaos we head now, it will be the final chaos, only that it's uncertain how long it will last and whereto it will lead us, the America folk."

We Have To Talk, Peter!

"I think we have to talk, Peter. So many things have happened right the last few days, the last hours - the president's illness and his behavior, the debate, Gretchen Whitmer, your next debate, there would be even more! We have to talk about all these topics, Peter!"

"I see this right in that way, Chris."

"Let's start with the vice presidential debate, Peter. Muriel Bowser was, compared with you, very moderate, but compared to her normal style, surprisingly aggressive. Have you talked in the forefront about a strategy with her?"

"We talk permanently about many topics. Of course, we have talked about my first debate as well as about her debate."

"But encouraged you her to be more aggressive?"

"I have to encourage her to nothing - and by the way, I think this discussion is very corrupt. Would this have been the debate between me and the president, all would say: Wow, how tame they have been! But now a woman was involved, then this suddenly is a topic. And what has she done? She has made clear, that she not accepts, that the vice president always interrupts her - wow, what a bad behavior for a woman!"

"She has named the vice president a murderer?"

"Well, that's infamous, a woman names a stone-cold killer a murderer, the head of the corona task force who has a record of over two hundred ten thousand dead Americans till now, soon we will have more dead Americans because of corona, as American soldiers died in WWII during several years, with awful battles like D-Day, Pearl Harbor and Okinawa. But was most pervert is, that they are disgusting enough to praise themselves: A fantastic job, ten from ten, the best president ever? I have to vomit, hearing this! And I envy Muriel Bowser, that she was able to stay that cool."

"Who do you think has won this debate?"

"You're really asking me this?"

"Will this debate give you and Muriel Bowser more votes?"

"Do we need more votes?"

"That sounds arrogant!"

"What we need first and foremost are free and equal elections - one American, one equal vote. Then we have to fight against voter suppression, not to talk about gerrymandering. Such things we need the most. Then, we're in the lead and the situation in the White House gets every day more and more insane - I think we will talk about this later. Muriel Bowser did a fantastic job, everybody says, that she was able to convince much more independent and undecided voters to vote for us, than Mike Pence was able to do so for oneself and the president, and we're already in the lead. Mission accomplished, I would say. The next round would be on me."

"That's a nice bridge, thanks Peter. Let's talk about the health of the president and your next debate. Do you think that there will be a next debate?"

"Ask the coward in office. He was so miserable in the first debate, his tactic was such a flop, he fears the questions from the voters that much, that he uses every possibility to duck out - I always said, that he's a fucking coward! I agree with every proposal by the Commission on Presidential Debates, I have enough guts to face every challenge, I'm no wiener."

"The presidential health?"

"He was from the first day on unfit for the office, and it became every year worse, and now it escalates. I never had a different opinion about this. What's different now is, that he has COVID-19 now, that he's affected by drugs, heavy and experimental drugs, and that he finally behaves totally irrational - but this is no problem for Moscow Mitch and the GOP, and not for the vice puppy."

"Do you think that the vice president should become active?"

"This is the most corrupt, disgusting, ruthless and incapable administration, at least in modern history. I expect nothing anymore except, that they step back in November."

"Step back?"

"Step back."

"Okay.....Gretchen Whitmer?"

"I had a phone call with her today. Hey, what would you feel, when someone tells you, the FBI, that some Nazis, friends of the president who stood by, who were ready to implement the president's orders to "free Michigan", had planned, to kidnap you, to torture you and then to kill you to cause a civil war? We're only a step away now, to become a dictatorship, a Nazi state, a new Russia, a new Saudi Arabia."

"What does this tells you about the time between election day and inauguration day?"

"Two possibilities of course. The sitting president wins, then we will become a terror state, his Nazi henchmen stand by to terrorize and kill all those, who will not agree with the president's regime. I could win, then I fear, his Nazi friends will do everything to destabilize the nation and to plunge America into the abyss. What gives me hope is, that the FBI acted like they acted. I know that at least the vast majority of the army adheres to the flag, the vast majority of police and civil servants have not forgotten their oath. But we see to what such groups are capable to, do not forget Oklahoma City!"

"Do you fear terror acts?"

"The sitting president of the United States of America has ordered his Nazi groups publicly in TV - he named one, but he meant all of them, and they have understood the message - to be ready for action. And they are ready, as we have seen. So far they have only practiced with paintballs, but we all know that they lust, to use real ammunition the next time."

"Do you think that the situation is that dangerous?"

"Ask Gretchen, close your eyes and try to be her, we can make only one mistake, to take them not serious, to underestimate their possibilities. I looked at many pictures by the German-American artist George Grosz in the last days, his pictures impressed me my whole life, but the last days.....it has not to come to this, at least I hope so, at least I wish for a better end for us, as they had it."

A Coward Is A Coward And Will Stay A Coward Forever!

"A coward is a coward and will stay a coward forever, I said this all the times! They thought the first time that they could dominate me, but bad luck, this sucker is not able impressing me, I laugh about him! And now? The coward in office would have to face questions, maybe critical questions, not like on Hoax News, and look what a wiener he is! He would not be able to simply walk away like in the White House, and he knows that he would be not able to handle critical questions, he's a total failure! I get sick of him!

But Don, let me say also something about Texas. First: Hey, you dumbasses from the Republicans, you have seen, that I do not need Texas to defeat the coward in office? Second: After my win we will clear out the pigpen and many will hold responsible for their actions. Also this disgrace, this attack on all Texans, will not change the fact that I will win, and we will have a very close look to all such actions - oh, and by the way, before I forget it. Right now we start an initiative to help Texans to vote, like shuttle services for people who need such support. We name it: Proud and free Texans help other proud and free Texans to stay proud and free Texans. Right in the first hour we have found over ten thousand volunteers who will help others to exercise their right to vote - fuck you, Republicans!"

Today

"Today the questioning of Judge Barrett begins. Democrats will have no possibility to stop the nomination. What will be your action after getting president?"

"That's true Anderson, soon we will have a new judge on the Supreme Court, Amy Coney Barrett. Let's see. I will win the election, I think the Republicans should be aware of it, what it would mean, if they overrule Obamacare in such a situation, the transition to a new government."

"Do you think that the Supreme Court will not overrule Obamacare, with a new judge Barrett?"

"The today's GOP is a bunch of insane old men, they will do it, no doubts about this. But it will hurt them finally, the American people, the majority of the American people will be upset about it. This GOP destroys oneself in a way, that it hurts. Sure, their "base" is enthusiastic, but this base is not the majority of the Americans."

"But what are your plans for 2021 to react?"

"We still have the problem, that we have to face the possibility of a new civil war. Do not understand me wrong Anderson, but 2021 is not in my focus the next three weeks, we have to rescue our democracy first. If we fail therein, everything else will be wiped out."

"So, you are on the way to win the election, it looks good for you. But then we have to face the danger that this administration and the GOP will not accept the election result. Assumed you will achieve a landslide win, say you will even Florida and Texas, the GOP has to accept the result, police and maybe even the army can reduce the far-right actions to a low level, then the Supreme Court will become the key point - expanding the Supreme Court?"

"As said, at the moment I'm not thinking that much about it, I focus on the election and to be prepared, to react on the president's and the GOP's reaction to my win. But what I can tell you is, that I agree with Chuck Schumer, everything is on the table. You not expect, that I will accept this disgraceful act, that I will not strike back? And hey, I know the majority of the Americans behind me, that's a good feeling."

"But you also said, that you're not that happy with Obamacare?"

"I said that Obamacare is not enough, that we have to step further on. We will have a tour through Europe, do some benchmarking, then we will decide."

"And if Obamacare falls, we have to act fast then, or?"

"The majority in the House, the majority in Senate, I in the White House - then the Democrats can show if they can use this situation to their advantage, whether they can deliver hard facts or only warm words. I'm open to everything, the country of my ancestors, Germany, has sixteen judges on their supreme court, and the nomination process is a bipartisan manner, whoever is in power. I can imagine a lot."

"So, the election, then the transition. You will win, and we have to hope then, that the worse predictions for the transition come not true. And then, everything is possible?"

"Ask the Dems? I will be only the POTUS. We will need the voices of NGOs and social groups, one of my tasks will be, that they will be heard this time. Simply said, we have to become a modern nation! And we have to forget this conservative lie, that America is always the best, sometimes we're simply the worst."

"Then I hope for you that you will win, I hope for us, the American people, that the transition will be peaceful, and then? I hope that we not again squander a chance, that we will have the power to achieve real change and progress this time. I wish you the best, Peter."

"Thanks Anderson, but now I think it's time that we should watch some TV. Even if I not focus on it, I think we should watch the questioning, I think one can learn a lot from it, learn a lot about one of the major systemic problems of the US. "

You Expected More?

"Really, you expected more? Wasn't it obvious from the beginning on, that she's only another willing henchmen for the far-right movement? Oh, sorry, she has seven children, and hey, two are really black! This will not change that she will vote against ACA, against Roe vs. Wade, against climate protection, will be willing to everything that voter fraud and voter suppression will have a good time.

It's nice seeing her, sitting there, reminds me of Jared, but you see her smiling inside, laughing about this hearing, enjoying it, to say time and time again nothing, or better, to say exactly that much, that the president's supporters hear: I will be the willing tool to fulfill all the president's orders, the agenda of the religious fundamentalists, the greedy White rich bunch that exploits the nation, that will satisfy his far-right base. She reminds me of Betsy DeVos, whom I regularly name a greedy bitch. I do not know whether she is greedy, but definitively ruthless. The rest is for your imagination.

Forget this hearing, forget the acting of the conservatives, concentrate on the important. I look forward to today's town hall - well I will be alone, but I'm proud to say, that I will be there, awaiting the questions of the American people. They should think about, why the president is not willing to join me, to face the questions of the American people in an independent environment - I would say, it's because he's a bloody coward, that he feels that he screws the election more and more up, that all will see in no three weeks what a loser he is.

So, let's concentrate on the election, that the transition will be peaceful. The problem with the Supreme Court we will fix after my win."

The Last Debate

"In two days we will see the last debate between the president and you. The president has made surprising concessions this time. How do you feel, Peter?"

"Well Don, let me say something about the situation right now. We see a GOP that starts to fall apart more and more. I will win the election, no doubts about this, and the GOP and the president knows this. But we all know, that winning the election will be not enough. I need a landslide win, I need that the Senate becomes democratic again. And the president who knows that he will lose? He freaks out finally, mocks Dr. Fauci in a way that's hardly to bear, and listens to a con man named Dr. Atlas. We see how much the president is frightened about the coming, he has still no health care plan, he has no strategy to fight against the virus, he has no idea to support the American people, the only thing he can do, is to mock people. But his attacks on Dr. Fauci are so stupid and disgusting, I can say to Dr. Fauci only, that I admire him and the times will change soon."

"You have contact with Dr. Fauci?"

"He knows what I think, and that I look forward to having him by my side to fight the virus."

"And the president, muted microphones?"

"Well, he's desperate. He knows, that he's on the losing end. Look at Moscow Mitch's statement, that he is not on the same page with the president, regarding a new stimulus bill - I mean, Moscow Mitch? Should these Republicans in panic, headless acting, get a new chance next year to decide about the American politics - it would be devastating. That's why it's not enough that I will win the vote, I need a huge majority in Senate as well, we have a lot to do!"

"Do you fear that all will become even more extreme, the next days, till the election day?"

"Dr. Fauci? I mean, he attacks the most trusted man in the USA. Yes, among the rights he is able to erode the support for Dr. Fauci, but they elect him anyway. But for independent and undecided voters this is very repelling, they know what Dr. Fauci did for our nation during decades, and especially in the last months. But yes, this will become more and more extreme, see his.....I don't know, wish or order or what, that Bill Barr should or has to start an investigation into my business affairs, for no reason, only because it could be, that Barr could find something? This is an action, driven by pure panic."

"Well Peter, I hope that your success will be big enough to stop all discussions after election day and that you will have the Senate at your side as well. The Supreme Court?"

"I will fix this after my inauguration, in one way or the other."

"Thanks for your time, Peter."

"Thanks for having me, Don."

Final Sprint

"This is our final sprint, we're on the home stretch now, soon we will have a winner. But let me first and foremost thank President Barack Obama for his fantastic speech yesterday. He showed not for the first time, why he is still such a highly honored and respected president - thanks for your support Mr. President! By the way, has anybody seen the former president Bush supporting the liar in office, nobody? The widow of the highly honored and respected John McCain? Former president Bush has criticized the liar in office, Cindy McCain has endorsed me? Aren't they both Republicans?"

Well, today we will have the last debate - how desperate is this president? To the second the coward not came, this time he says that it's all totally unfair, but he will come - you're a very desperate liar in office, or? And, do I have missed something? Has the honorable President Barack Hussein Obama II made you speechless, no tweets? It's interesting, to listen to a real president, bounded to honor, isn't it? You're such a pathetic loser, Mr. Wannabe President!

What do I expect for today? It will be interesting to see him, when he has to listen for long two minutes not able to interrupt me - I look forward asking him about some matters, President Barack Obama Hussein II talked about yesterday. Chinese bank accounts, which dictators he owes hundreds of millions of dollars, how it feels to murder hundreds of innocent Americans every day, simply by ignoring their struggle with the virus, how does it feel to know, that the free world laughs about me and that only dictators and mass murders love me, as well as Nazis and racists? And, you're so weak now, that you even cannot bear an hour of questions from a tough female reporter, Mr. Born-To-Lose?

We need a landslid win, the House and the Senate, I'm saying this since a very long time now. It's fantastic to see how many Americans have already voted, continue, the more the better, we have only this one chance. The GOP has supported an awful destructive policy the last four years, they need to get a clear statement from the American people. In four years they nearly destroyed our community and our democracy - for what? A tax law that makes you poorer and billionaires richer, billions for a fucking wall, and of course an arch-conservative Supreme Court now. For that they were willing to kill tens of thousands of Americans, to destroy our political institutions, that Nazis and racists, constant liars, plunder America and drag our country to the point, where it finally is not better than Nazi Germany. We have to prevent our nation to become a Nazi dictatorship, that "Proud Boys" marching down the streets and kill even more Americans, we have to stand up, we have to vote!

Twelve days, we can end this nightmare very easily with a landslide win, with winning not only the White House, but also House and Senate. Let's do it! - Let's do it!"

The Last Debate

"A word about the debate yesterday? Do you see yourself as winner?"

"Well, I hope that I gain the advantage, compared to a man who talked such a shit."

"You refer to?"

"Well, standing face to face with an African American woman, Kristen Welker, and saying that she's more racist as you, an old white man, is such disgusting and pathetic - this man knows no limits, to be tasteless."

"Well, this was in fact very astonishing. But do you think that you reached new voters?"

"As far as I can see it till now at least some, and the president none. I was in the lead, would mean that I was able to expand my lead. But this is the topic for the last days. I will win, no doubts about that, but I need a landslide win, I need also the Senate, I need every single vote. We have to send a clear message, that the American people are repelled by the last four years. This is not America - why I have David Bowie in mind now? Whatever, how much the president told you about his agenda for the next four years?"

"Not much, nothing in the end."

"Yeah, because he has no idea how to shape the future of the country, he can only be destructive. He still has no plan to defeat the pandemic, he has no plan to replace Obamacare, only to destroy Obamacare. He's a loser, a coward, a swine that only can hurt others - really, telling an African American woman that she's more racist as you, an old white man? This shit has to come to its end now! Thanks for your questions!"

"Thanks for answering them."

A Funny Anecdote

"A good friend from Germany told me about a opinion poll in Germany. The result was, that four percent of the Germans wish that the liar in office would get a second term, eighty-nine percent that I would win. Well, that's how the Germans feel, the Europeans and most of the rest of the world – well, some dictators and mass murderers see it differently. You will see, after my win, the whole world will take a deep breath, we will hear a lot of cheers then!"

Don't Panic! - Panic!

"Yes, we have a new presidential puppet on the Supreme Court now. But give her, her moment of joy, soon the rude awakening will come. Let them celebrate, we will have a new superspreader event, and soon they all will see, that this four fucking years only yielded one: A nation at the abyss, a nation hurt badly, a nation that fights back! I will stop all spending for the wall, the wall is dead! I will make my own tax reform and the super-rich and big corporations will pay the bill this time - the GOP's tax giveaway is dead! I will fix the problem with the Supreme Court, they have overdone, the conservative majority on the Supreme Court is dead! I will hold all this "suckers" responsible for their doing during the last four years - let's see, who will be locked up soon! I will reform the electoral system in the States, we need the modern system of popular vote, bad for future conservative presidential candidates! Soon we will have "Obamacare Redux", this time the deluxe edition for all Americans! We will rejoin the Paris Agreement and will rejoin the circle of our former, our real, allies! Short form: We will wipe out the last four years!

Can we do this? Yes, we can! We can do it, if we're strong enough - the House, Senate and White House, as well as so many governor's and mayor's offices for the Democrats as possible! We are the majority of the United States, no matter if the rich white male minority calls you, because of your skin color or your roots or your belief, a minority - they are the minority, we are the majority and in a democracy the majority wins the election! And we will win this election, we will win it with an impressive win!

You have seen the smiling woman who will take away your health care, take away your right for pregnancy termination? You have heard the son-in-law sucker as he told the African Americans that they are lazy and therefore it's their own guilt to be poor and deprived? Of course they are! They are mainly Democrats, only Republicans are ambitious! See how ambitious Ivanka and Jared are to plunder America and how fine they are able to sleep, while every day more than a thousand Americans die because they are not interested in them, no ambitions in this field? No, why, mainly Niggers and Latino scum and Chinese Asians die - and this lazy people, who lived here before! Mainly Democrats die, or? So, all is okay, or? Let's change demographics in the right way!

In exactly one week the day has come - vote! Vote today and tomorrow, vote every day till election day and vote also on election day! We're the fucking majority in this country, this country is a democratic Democrat country, we only have to vote, raise our voices! I feel excited, today is the last Tuesday, tomorrow the last Wednesday, the day after the last Thursday, the last Friday, and then the last weekend, Saturday and Sunday - and then a last Monday, then it's election day! Let it become a bright day, a day of hope, the beginning of a new chapter, you only have to vote! - No! But you have to vote, but then the time has come that you have to raise your voice and my task will be, to listen to you! A president has to listen to the people, a president is the president of a nation, not a super-rich minority! To all the people? - No! I have not to listen to Nazis and racists! On this side, there are no good people! But I have to listen to all who believe and trust in a free and fair society, they can form a better nation, not built on greed, on violence and murder, but on respect and the willingness to work together!

Let me come to an end, but one matter I have still to mention - education! Education for all, yes, health care for all is essential, but on the same level good and profound education for all! Our billionaire "elite" will spend trillions of dollars in the next years, to build up a modern school system like in Europe, especially Scandinavia! They will do? Yes, and I talk not about Mexico and lock her up, but in future they will contribute their "fair share" to built a modern America, a America for all, not only for a super-rich white minority!

Count with me: One, two, three, four, five, six, seven - election day! We have it in our own hands, let's do it! Let's do it! - Let's do it!"

The Situation Of Your Campaign Today?

"How you see the situation of your campaign today, Peter?"

"Well, four days left, then it's election day. We have all the chances to win, to win with a comfortable margin, even a landslide win would be possible. But we have to keep our efforts high, we have to continue with early voting, we still have to be alert and careful. Even today we have not won the election, we have all the chances that I have enumerated, but have to keep our efforts high for that, Don."

"The major developments for you at the moment, Peter?"

"Over one third of all registered voters have already voted, that's fantastic. We have some encouraging court decisions, but some not. But I have to confess, that I have topics like another dead black man in mind, all states have rising numbers, our death rate rises two-digit again, the next severe storm, statements from more-fascist-as-the-president Jared - I have a lot in mind as every one of us. And like every one of us I have the feeling, that we have to come back to the times, when not every day outdid the previous day by absurdity and cruelty. You know Don, sometimes I feel very tired and downcast, but then I take a deep breath and have a long and hot shower and I say to me: We're so close now, only a few days, then we can have reached our aim, to free the American nation, to prevent that our nation becomes a Nazi dictatorship, and then I feel like a runner on the home stretch, now is the time to mobilize all energy you still have, now is the moment of the highest concentration and for mobilizing all you have left. After the finish line we can celebrate, but now is the time for our final sprint."

"And even with a lead on the final straight, one can still lose the race - or?"

"Absolutely, the history of sport knows very sad and tragic examples of runners, who seemed to have won the race, but at the end had nothing in hand. A few days of full concentration and mobilization, then we can celebrate, but not until then Don."

"Then let's give everything we have, the final days. And Thursday night, we can celebrate together, or Peter?"

"Much will depend on Florida and how close the race over all will be. Maybe not until Friday or Saturday, but then we will celebrate. You're invited, as well as all Americans who are happy then, that we have defended our free nation. But.... - no, then we have to celebrate, exuberant and long, the whole weekend long! But on Monday my work will begin, our work will begin, the Nation has a lot of problems to solve. But the weekend after next will be for celebration, at least if we not take it to easy and become careless - the first weekend in November will be a historic weekend, and we will celebrate the whole days, Don!"

"We will, Peter, we will!"

Hey, He's Still A Swine!

"Really, you're surprised about his remarks regarding doctors, who make money with people dying on corona? He's a filthy swine, and it's in his nature, in the nature of this human swines like Ivanka, Jared and his sons, not in the nature of an animal pig, to behave in this way. It would be like to say: Oh, Mr. Hitler, you really murdered millions of Jews in gas chambers, I'm surprised! You still get fooled by this human swine?"

Believe Me, He Loves Her!

"Yes, it's true, I will have rallies during the last days together with Rep. Ilhan Abdullahi Omar. The president talks so much about her, I think he likes her, I think he will be very happy to see her onstage during a presidential rally, maybe she will even be onstage one day, at a presidential rally, as the candidate? And before you have to ask, I do not agree with all her statements and her ideas or aims, but as far as I know it, this is called democracy, at least as long as one not tries to destroy our democracy like the president and his Nazi friends. I think that the Democratic Party can be proud of, to have representatives like Ms. Omar among the party, and not only as representatives. Thanks for your question, it was a very important one, and this is not only an empty phrase!"

A Final Thought

"It's November the third, in some hours we will know the first results, and then?"
"Then we will have won, we will have won the White House as well as Senate. But you're right:
And then? Much will depend on the Democrats, whether they will be bolder this time or not.
Winning the election is one matter, to renew and modernize a nation that needs urgent and severe change, is another matter. So, not the next hours will decide the future of our nation, because we will win. But the next weeks, months and years will - and there's still this pandemic.
Do it, do it America!"

And if you want the Queen

Better call me, call me.*

*If you want some dirty lies, I can do that for you.
Watch me dance for other guys, I can do that for you.
Tell you everything's alright, I can do that for you.
Never ever leave your side, I can do that for you.*

VI.) The Old Year Ends, The New Year Begins November 4th till January 19th

I will not write this part because of changing my writing. What's to say? Maybe:

I wish you the best, America!

(Written at November the third, 7:10 pm local German time, 1:10 pm in Washington)

VII.) My Inauguration January 20th

Welcome The 46. President Of The United States Of America

"Are you sad?"

"Well, not really. One night as FLOTUS in the White House? Better as nothing – or?"

"Yeah, today my inauguration, tomorrow my resignation - the American nation needs no longer white men, the American nation needs women and has to express its plurality."

"The first female POTUS, the second from the so-called black minority - Muriel Bowser. I think it will be very interesting when she will announce her vice president. Already the cabinet caused a lot of surprise and amazement. A female vice president who's a member of the so-called Native Americans, will be the ultimate test for the American nation."

"Well, either they get it, or not. This nation needs dramatic change or everything will be too late. Maybe it will be not too late today, maybe not tomorrow, but the day after tomorrow!"

"And now? It will be our only night in the White House?"

"Well, we're a married couple?"

"Maybe we will conceive a coming POTUS tonight, here in the White House?"

"Then it should be a girl, no longer the fucking past, we have to step forward into the future!"

(Written at November the third, 7:39 pm local German time, 1:39 pm in Washington)

Postscript

Now I have stopped the writing on "Beg Your Pardon! I Would Do It Better - Mr. President!" also. At least this story has found an end, only the "in between" is missing.

"The in between", this will be the major question - at the moment I feel good, have the feeling that Joe Biden will win, not sure with what a margin, not sure about the Senate, not sure about the reaction of the president.

In a way this writing will find its continuation in the new writing, as well as all the other stories. Nevertheless, I feel sad, but I have the feeling, that this was a good step!

The next hours will decide very much - give him the Rust Bell states, Florida as well as Texas! Come on, let me dream, it would be so good for this nation to have a very clear result - but then there're this three months, and this fucking feeling, scorched earth.

Three hours left, then it will begin, then this writing will have found its ultimate end, the new writing will have begun.

Do it right, Lady America! I would like it very much, to meet you again, as soon as possible!

(Written at November the third, 8:58 pm local German time, 2:58 pm in Washington)
